VIRUS DETECTION: Viruses hit the media with the frequency of a breath. They also have the effect of "remote control" on the computer user's business. So long as viruses are unchecked, every use of your PC can be a potential source of infection. Viruses can cause data loss and slow-downs in a manner similar to a "power outage". A virus can perform anything from creating a backup of your data to wiping your hard disk clean without your knowledge. This happens all of the time and is a major cause of insurance claims and customer satisfaction issues. However, with Optimum Software, you can avoid this and keep your business running - all at the click of a mouse! Optimum Virus Protection In almost every case, antivirus software catches viruses before a virus can do any damage. But sometimes, the "anti-virus" program fails to detect or even clean up. When this happens, the virus becomes "infected" and begins to spread to neighboring files and directories. In this case, it is important that you quarantine the virus and restore the data to get back to normal operation. Optimum Software provides you with an easy to use, intuitive virus scanning and quarantining tool that allows you to quarantine and safely restore your computer in seconds. Quarantining a virus is important because you cannot completely remove it from your system. Just because you know you have a virus does not mean you will not be infected again. Actually, the odds are very good that you will be infected again. A well-protected computer will eliminate the virus, but a virus-infected computer is a very good place for the virus to proliferate. By quarantining a virus, Optimum Software gives you the best protection possible against this threat. Once your computer has been restored to its original factory state, you can be assured that all viruses on your system have been removed and the risk of infection is eliminated. Virus Removal When a virus is on your computer, all applications and data are affected by this virus. Optimum Software provides a wide
