I have sold my house and have another house that is just 4 or so months old. I was living on a limited income and had to cut back and move in with my mother-in-law in the middle of the month to save up money. Unfortunately, I sold my cat and dog during this time and am worried about moving into the new house without them. Is there any way to get them back? I have had these pets since I was 19 years old so it would be extremely upsetting to have to let them go. A: Don't worry. Your cats and dogs are in the very safe hands of US armed forces. USA There is a whole chapter dedicated to pets, pets and animals at Wikipedia under the heading Pets and animals in the United States As of July 2005 the US population consists of 308 million people. As of the last census, there were approximately 110 million pet dogs, 150 million pet cats and 3.5 billion pet birds. In 2006, people spent $51.2 billion on pets, for food and supplies, homes, health care, and services (already a 7 percent increase from 2005). In 2006, the number of pet dogs, cats and birds increased 3 percent from 2005. Animals came into households nationwide; however, pet dogs, cats and birds dominated, owning 22 percent or 80.5 million of the pets. Economists predict a 10 percent increase in pet ownership in the United States by 2015. Your cats and dogs are probably well taken care of. International But no need to worry. They have been rescued from a
