Q: Add an array object to a session array I have an array of objects that I push to a session array in the onload event of a page. In PHP there is something called variable variables that allows you to access the data from the current session variables in the function call. function myFunction(item){ //do something with the array item //how can I access the array in myFunction from the current function? $var_array = array($val1, $val2, $val3, $val4 ); $sess_array = array_push($_SESSION["var_array"], $item);

What's New In?

Solo (Europe album) Solo is the fifth studio album by the English progressive rock band Europe, released in December 1978 by Rock America. The album was conceived as a solo effort by the band's guitarist John Wetton, and to that end he opted not to use any of the rest of the band's songs. It contains Wetton's only Top 40 hit, "Don't Leave Me Now", along with five other songs. A different mix of the track "Love at the End" (a remake of another Europe track, "Love at the Twilight's End") was released in some countries on the single "Welcome to the Cities", along with "After the Rain". Writing and recording John Wetton wrote four of the eight songs on Solo, all of which were already Europe songs ("Underground", "Love at the Twilight's End", "Guilty", and "Just One Year"). The other four songs were "Walking in the Sky", a Wetton composition, "Son of the Night", a Micky Moody composition, and "Never Tell Me Never", a Tin Machine song by Gabriel Mekler, Mick Jones, and David Bowie. "Walking in the Sky" was one of two new songs, the other being "After the Rain", which was not released as a single. "Walking in the Sky" was the first track on Solo, and marked a return to the earlier, acoustic-guitar-dominated style of Wetton's earlier compositions. Release Solo was released in December 1978 by Rock America, in advance of the debut US tour of the band by then drummer, Wally Finucane. The album was released in the US as Europe (Solo) and as Europe 4. It was released on CD in 1990. "Don't Leave Me Now" entered the UK Singles Chart on 11 December 1978 at No. 40, and eventually peaked at No. 17. It also reached No. 30 in Italy, No. 17 in West Germany, and No. 24 in Switzerland. Track listing Side one "Walking in the Sky" – 3:12 "Son of the Night" – 6:07 "Never Tell Me Never" – 5:29 "Guilty" – 6:18 Side two "Underground" – 6:12 "Love at the Twilight's End" – 5:45 "Welcome to the Cities" –
